Organizing and Supporting Institutions

The Conference is jointly organized by:

- LEO (Laboratoire d'Économie d'Orléans) CNRS – University of Orléans
- LABEX Voltaire

with the support of:

- INFER (International Network For Economic Research)

LEO (Laboratoire d'Économie d'Orléans - Orleans Research Center in Economics) is a research centre supported by CNRS (French National Center for Scientific Research) and University of Orléans (France). It welcomes about 40 permanent researchers (full professors and associate professors) and 60 PhD students. LEO is specialized in three research areas: (1) Macroeconomics and Finance, (2) International Economics and Sustainable Development and (3) Econometrics.

Labex VOLTAIRE is a pluridisciplinary long term research program (Investissements d'Avenir) that aims at fostering research focused on the relations between Resources, Earth and Atmosphere. VOLTAIRE (standing for VOLatils – Terre, Atmosphère et Interactions - Ressources et Environnement) gathers several research units: all the Geosciences Research Centers of the Orléans University campus, the LEO research centre, the BRGM and INRA Orléans sites. It uniquely combines the various skills and sensitivities in order to build a scientific community in the fields of resources (energy and minerals) and environment (hydro systems, soils, air masses). The LEO is responsible for the analysis of Economic and Social aspects related to Geosciences, within the Labex VOLTAIRE.

Location and Travelling

The conference will take place at the following address:

Université d'Orléans
LEO (Laboratoire d'Économie d'Orléans)
Faculté de Droit, d'Économie et de Gestion
Rue de Blois, BP 267.39
45067 ORLEANS CEDEX - FRANCE

Orléans is a city in north-central France, located on the Loire River, about 130 kilometers southwest of Paris. It is the capital of the Centre region and belongs to the Loire Valley which was added by UNESCO to its list of World Heritage Sites.

Orléans is one hour away from Paris - Austerlitz station by train (SNCF website: www.voyages-sncf.com). There are two train stations in Orléans: "Les Aubrais" and "Orléans Centre". Once you get off the train at "Les Aubrais" or "Orléans Centre" train station, you can take the tramway to the University (direction "Hôpital de la Source": TAO website <http://www.reseau-tao.fr/>). It takes approximately half an hour from the station "Orléans centre" and less than 45 minutes from the station "Les Aubrais" to get to the University: get off the tramway at the "Université-Château" stop. More details are available on the conference website.

Accommodation

Participants are responsible for their travel and accommodation arrangements. Please make your reservations as soon as possible. A list of hotels will be available on the conference website.

Publication of Papers

A selection of papers presented at the conference will be proposed for publication to an international journal. The conference organizers will contact you about this publication possibility.
